POLICY ON USE OF CAMERAS IN AND AROUND COURT FACILITIES

It is the policy of the Sixth District Courts to allow reasonable use of cameras by members of the media in and around court facilities while at the same time protecting the rights of litigants and the integrity of judicial processes. In an effort to achieve the proper balance, a dividing line is drawn at the courthouse door. Use of cameras inside of a courthouse requires approval by the sitting judge. Use of cameras on the grounds and around the entrances of courthouses is permitted unless otherwise ordered by the sitting judge. Media representatives may obtain relevant information from the clerk of court in each county.
